DUM-DUM BULLETS NOT BEING SHIPPED FROM U. S.

Washington, March 27.—The German embassy's second charge that dum-dum bullets are being shipped from the United States to the allies has not been substantiated by an investigation made by army ordnance experts, and the State Department has so informed Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador.

The ordnance experts held that the wounds shown in photographs could not have been inflicted by bullets of which specimens were submitted.

LOUISVILLE HOSPITALS
FULL OF "DOPE FIENDS"

Louisville, Ky., March 29.—"Morphinism (opium inebriety), a chronic intoxication, due to the habitual use of morphine or opium," is the way physicians describe the cause of the present run on the psychopathic ward of the Louisville city hospital, and private sanatoriums by victims of this terrible disease, who have been deprived of morphine and other narcotics by the enforcement of the Harrison narcotic law, which became operative March 1. Hundreds of unfortunates who have relied upon narcotics for years for what little comfort they might get out of life have been driven to desperation by the enforcement of the law, and are crowding the hospitals and sanatoriums for some measure of relief from their agony in a possible cure of the disease.

At the city hospital alone since March 1 more than sixty morphinomaniacs, opium smokers and eaters and cocaine sniffers seeking a cure of their troubles as the only means of relief from mental and physical suffering, have been admitted to the psychopathic wards and to-day there are thirty-six inmates of the women's department alone—thirty-six examples of the weakest specimens imaginable.

FOUND NEAR PLANT BED WITH HIS THROAT CUT

Morganfield, Ky., March 28.—His throat so badly cut that the doctor to-night holds out no hope for his recovery, Tyson Cottingham, a prominent farmer of the Boxville neighborhood, Union county, was found by two of his children this afternoon lying near his plant bed with a razor by his side.

According to members of the family, Mr. Cottingham started out after dinner to inspect the bed, and it was not until an hour or so later that his wife, alarmed at his long absence, sent two of the children out to look for him.

The little ones returned in a few minutes with the news of their father's condition and help for the wounded man was summoned with all possible speed.

Mr. Cottingham is married and has five children. A brother, Thomas Cottingham, deputy court clerk of Henderson, has been summoned to his bedside.

NOTED COMMANDER OF ORPHAN BRIGADE DEAD

The Louisville Times of Friday says:

Taps sounded for Maj. Samuel Horine Buchanan, Confederate veteran, commander of the Orphan Brigade and retired business man, at 10:05 o'clock last night. Death came in his rooms in the Galt House, where he had made his home for sixteen years.

For two years Maj. Buchanan had been a sufferer from Bright's disease, but during this time was able to go about, few people knowing that his health was impaired. The first week in March, however, he suffered a severe attack while in his room. He recovered sufficiently to leave his room and be about again, but a second attack came on March 12. Although he rallied at times and seemed to regain his former strength, his condition gradually grew worse until the end.

SOLDIERS IN DEADLY COMBAT

Bayonets Bent By Excessive
Use When French Make Bloody Charge.

FIGHTING WITH RIFLE BUTTS

Paris, March 27.—An official eye-witness describes the capture of Sabot Woods, between Souain and Perthes, on the battle front in France. He writes:

"Between the adverse lines, where the fighting has gone on for months, quantities of dead life—some of them dating from the first engagements, their dried faces reduced to the appearance of mummies. Beyond these lines the Sabot Woods, which the enemy held strongly for months, were the object of a systematic attack. The Germans strongly fortified the heights dominating our positions at that point.

"March 1 the general order was given that the woods must be taken. The artillery prepared the ground for the first attack, which, in the face of a violent machine-gun fire, resulted in the capture of two lines of trenches. A further advance was checked by a vigorous counter attack.

"Our success was very costly. The Lieutenant Colonel commanding, a Captain and two Lieutenants fell mortally wounded.

"On the morning of the 8th the Germans made a more serious attempt to regain the position. The spectacle furnished by our troops was magnificent. With fixed bayonets they bounded forward, and within a few minutes the ground was covered with dead Germans.

"From the 9th to the 12th further progress was made. We arrived to within 20 yards of the main German trenches, which were well fortified. Unable to withstand the fire, we were obliged to retire until the 15th, when an epic combat at 4 o'clock in the morning resulted in its final capture. In pitch darkness our men approached silently, until ordered to charge; they then fell upon the line of defense so unexpectedly that the Germans were bayoneted in their tracks. Only a few survivors succeeded in retiring to their rear line.

"This movement concealed a trick. A strongly organized block-house was unmasked behind the trenches and an enflading fire from machine guns decimated our ranks; which, however, held good until 4:30, when the blockhouse itself was attacked with great fury. Hand-to-hand fighting on the parapet lasted one hour.

"At 5:30 we were inside. Bayonets were reeking with blood, several of them were bent out of shape by excessive use, after which the fighting went on with the butts of rifles.

"At dawn the Germans counter-attacked twice, but were stopped by our bombs—and we were master of Sabot Woods."

"We Are Seven."

Washington, March 29.—Progressive strength in the next House of Representatives will consist of seven members, compared with nineteen in the last Congress, according to the calculations of Representative Stephens, of California. He said that the seven would confer at the beginning of the next session to determine upon a leader and to outline the party program. Mr. Stephens added that Representative Copley, of Illinois, might be proposed for the leadership.

FLYER CARRIES CAPTIVE
BACK ON HIS MACHINE

Petrograd, March 27.—The story of an aviator who came back to the Russian lines with an Austrian prisoner strapped to the tail frame of his aeroplane, is told in a dispatch from the front in Poland.

"The airman, Terentio Paschaloff, ascended from the aviation headquarters in the rear of Gen. Ivanoff's army in his 150-horsepower machine, accompanied by his mechanic. The machine carried a small gun and a number of bombs.

"Owing to motor trouble, Paschaloff had to descend two miles behind the Austrian lines. While the mechanic was repairing the motor, six Austrians approached. Paschaloff turned his one-pounder on them and fired one shrapnel shell, which exploded accurately and felled five men. The sixth surrendered.

"Then came the problem—what would he do with his prisoner? Paschaloff decided to abandon his stock of bombs and tie his prisoner to the tail-frame of his machine. Thus burdened, the aeroplane rose and flew over the Austrian lines amid a storm of bullets, regaining the Russian lines without damage."

VERTREES CONVICTED FOR COUNTERFEITING

Pittsburg, Pa., March 26.—James Vertrees, at the time of his arrest, several weeks ago, charged and convicted of passing $20 counterfeit bills, was to-day sentenced to serve two years and six months in the Eastern Penitentiary, this State, by Judge Thomson, in the United States Court here.

Vertrees, at the time of his arrest had passed a large number of the bills. His wife was arrested with him, but later was released. Vertrees made a confession implicating several others in the making and passing of the counterfeit.

He stated that he had taken a special course in photo-engraving to learn how to turn out the bills, and that he was paying for a home in Kentucky out of the proceeds of his illegal business.

TWENTY MILLIONS IS BELGIUM'S FOOD BUDGET

London, March 29.—A financial report, issued here by the American Commission for Relief in Belgium, shows that foodstuffs of a total value of $20,000,000 have been delivered in Belgium since the inception of the commission's work.

"Nineteen million dollars' worth of food is now on the way to the stricken country or is stored for future shipment. Of the grand total $8,500,000 was provided by benevolent contributions, either of food or cash, and the balance of $30,500,000 was provided by banking arrangements set up by the commission.

The benevolent contributions consisted of $2,600,000 in cash and $5,900,000 in food. Of the benevolent contributions the United States provided $4,700,000; Canada, $900,000; Australia, $900,000; the United Kingdom, $1,200,000, and the balance of $800,000 came from various parts of the world.

RUSSIANS SPENT A HIDEOUS NIGHT

Just Before the Fall Of Przemysl Fortress.

TEN THOUSAND SHELLS FIRED

In the Two Hours Before Daylight—Fall Of Smoke Hung Over All.

SURRENDER OCCUPIED A DAY

Przemysl, Galicia, March 23, via Petrograd, March 27.—The night preceding the surrender to the Russians of the Austrian fortified position at Przemysl was hideous in the Russian lines with the roar of guns and the shock of exploding shells. Never on this frontier during the war has there been such a bombardment.

Standing outside the walls of the fallen fortress to-day an American correspondent heard the story of the besieged and the besiegers, while the smoke of battle was still hanging in heavy clouds overhead.

The night of March 21-22 the Austrians maintained an unprecedented fire upon the Russian positions. The hut in which the Russian staff officers had their quarters shook like a leaf, and the ground for miles around trembled as though rent by a series of earthquakes. All night long the sky was red with the bursting of shells.

The cannonading reached its greatest intensity between 4 and 6 o'clock in the morning. During these two hours 10,000 shells were fired. Before dawn a scouting division of Russians drove back the Austrians, who were in occupation of the outlying positions, and after a sharp engagement occupied the Austrian trenches. Backing up this movement, the entire Russian army, facing the Austrians, began to close in on them. As this advance was made the Austrians from all sides retired to the protection of the fortress.

Suddenly telegrams began reaching Russian headquarters from various points, declaring that the Austrians were blowing up their forts. At the same time the Austrian fire slackened to a certain extent and above the roar of the artillery could be heard the deep roar of explosions from within the fortress.

The Russians continued advancing, the men running forward among exploding mines. Occasionally rifle firing was heard.

Toward 8 a. m., March 22, white flags began appearing over the tops of the Austrian forts. The Russian fire thereupon ceased. Then a group of Austrian officers under a flag of truce appeared, making its way from one of the forts in the direction of the Russian headquarters. Soon from all directions Austrian divisions appeared walking quietly toward the Russian ranks. The officers wore their arms, but the soldiers were mostly unarmed. Others were observed throwing away their rifles as they came on. These Austrian troops spoke in friendly and kindly terms to the Russian soldiers and saluted the Russian officers.

The River Vichora, a tributary of the San, separated the Russians from the Austrian forts on one section of the front. At this point the railroad bridge had been blown up and the Russians had difficulty in crossing. The men made their way as best they could over the remains of the wrecked bridge, while the Cossacks swam their horses. The correspondent crossed with the Cossacks.

A notable feature of the advance was that all of Przemysl was covered with heavy clouds of smoke. Loud detonations continued and it was evident that the Austrians were destroying the remainder of their ammunition.

Discussion of the terms of surrender occupied the entire day. In the meantime and until evening the sound of explosions from within the fortress continued.

All day long soldiers straggled out from the fortress without arms. They were rounded up and taken to Russian headquarters.

Resurrected.

Winchester, Ky., March 28.—Fielding B. Watts, who left Winchester more than twenty years ago, and who for the past ten years was believed to have been dead, started relatives to-day when he walked into the home of his brother, James Watts, who now lives near L. & E. Junction. The report of his death seemed to be authentic. Mr. Watts does not know why it was circulated. He is now a prosperous business man at St. Joseph, Mo.

BOOTLEGGERS' SCHEME—AND IT DIDN'T EXPLODE!

Fairmont, W. Va., March 25.—Representing that their wagon was loaded with nitroglycerin, bootleggers succeeded in hauling a load of liquor from Oakland, Md., to Grafton, W. Va., without being arrested for violation of the State's liquor law.

Drivers of passing teams stood nearly paralyzed with fear as the outfit passed with its reckless driver bouncing about on the seat, whipping the horses, and with the wheels thundering over the rocks.

He did not stop until he had arrived at a coal mine near Grafton, where 20 gallons of liquor on board were quickly disposed of. The driver then sold the team and wagon.

TWO HUNDRED WARRANTS
IN ANTI-LIQUOR FIGHT

Bowling Green, Ky., March 27.—As the results of unusual shipments of liquor into Bowling Green wholesale warrants were issued before Judge Denhardt, a total of over 200 being taken out. The warrants were issued under a statute of the last Legislature, fixing a penalty on those having liquor in their possession for the purpose of sale.

These warrants followed an inspection of the books of the express and railroad companies, kept as required by law, and which shows the amount and dates of shipments received by each individual.

It is understood a number, learning that these warrants were being issued, have left the city.

SHELLS BREAK UP ICE—
THREE COMPANIES DROWN

Koenigsberg, March 27.—The difficulties with which the opposing forces in East Prussia have had to contend during the winter months are described by a Prussian soldier who has been through the long campaign.

His company was entrenched near one of the Masurian Lakes when three Russian companies attempted a surprise attack by creeping over the ice. The assault was discovered and repelled, and the Germans were able to annihilate every member of the Russian force without leaving the trenches by the simple expedient of breaking up the ice with heavy shells, so that their opponents drowned.

Clad in their heavy uniforms and weighted down with cartridge belts, the Russian soldiers never had a chance. Before the eyes of the Germans they clung desperately to ice, and then, one by one, sank from sight. Not a man ever reached shore.

EASTER A SYMBOL OF RENEWED LIFE

Permeates All Things Of the Earth.

IS THE BEGINNING OF SPRING

Great Event Has a Physical As Well As Religious Significance.

THE RHYTHMIC LAW OF MOTION

Easter is a Christian festival, fixed so as to occur at the beginning of spring.

Among all primitive peoples—Norse, Egyptian, Hindu or Greek—spring's coming was given a religious significance. The profound heart of mankind has always interpreted nature spiritually—that is, all events in the whole order of things, the seasons, the movements of the stars, the storms, the sun, were conceived to be symbols addressed to the soul of man and not mere dead and meaningless factors.

If a man were a stone he might think the universe to be nothing but material; being a mind and heart, he persists in fancying the world also imbued with purpose and feeling. From this comes the race-wide phenomenon of religion.

Without entering into the theological side of Easter, let us ask ourselves, "What is the human nature of which the springcoming is a fit symbol?"

In four ways the soul sees itself at springtime in the revealing mirror of nature. It sees its own rhythmic law, the perpetual triumph of youth over old age, of hope over despair and of life over death.

1. The rhythmic law. Herbert Spencer beautifully explained how all motion is rhythmic; none is continuously steady. The blood circulates in pulses, the breath is taken regularly, day and night alternate, winds blow in gusts, laughter and weeping are spasmodic, and so on. So also the progress of growth, the education of the mind, the unfolding of the soul and the progress of civilization advance and recede, yet with a constant excess of advance; they go forward not as the river flows, but as the waves of the tide rise. So the common philosophy of the people says, "We all have our ups and downs." "The darkest hour is just before the dawn," and the like.

2. The triumph of youth over age. This is a perpetually young world; it is for youth, not old age. Trees shed their leaves, plants die, all vegetation periodically disappears and comes again young, lest the earth be filled with old things. So mankind perpetuates itself, not by the old living on, but by babies coming to replace them that it may remain youthful forever. Youth is the eternal truth; it is nature's point of view. Whatever the great spirit may be who animates all things, it is a spirit that continually renews its youth. The world is just as young now of a spring morning as it was the days of Nineveh. Boys and girls attack life as freshly now as did the children of the ancient Egyptians. Then let it be so in our own experience and may the young joy wonder of life be constantly reborn in us.

3. The triumph of hope over despair. Despair is essentially temporary, self-destructive. It is a passing winter. But hope is the inevitable spring and comes to the hearts of brave men and women as surely as comes the round of the seasons. The tides of cheer, joy and optimism in the race are inexhaustible. It is forever a happy world in the large view. "Weeping may endure for the night, but joy cometh in the morning."

4. The triumph of life over death. Men die every day and hearts break and bodies become diseased and decrepit. But this world remains a world for the living and not the dead, of joyous lovers and not the disillusioned, of young courage and not old fear. The mind of universal man refuses to believe in death; all our thought and love is impregnated with life. We shall live on; it is not logic that proves it, but it is an inextinguishable instinct.

These are the truths about himself man reads in the symbol of the returning spring. This is the cosmic meaning of Easter.

So Whittier says:
 The night is mother of the day,
 The winter of the spring,
 And ever upon old decay
 The greenest mosses cling.

THE MEXICAN PROBLEM IS A BEWILDERING ONE

If it were not charged with dynamite, the Mexican situation would offer every feature of the most diverting comic opera.

As fast as Washington reduces Carranza to something resembling good behavior, Villa, Zapata or some other one of the numerous more or less pretentious chieftains breaks out like smallpox in another spot, endangering foreign life and property and freshly embarrassing this Government.

No wonder the administration is bewildered. It has come to be a question of how, when and to whom to apply the paddle. Every instinct of caution points against intervention, considering our critical relations with Europe. Yet the revolution-machinist to the south of us keeps on revolving and giving us new cause for uneasiness.

It is not difficult to imagine that the diplomacy of Washington is being strained to the uttermost. It is between the devil and the deep sea, with the fires heating and the tide rising.—[Atlanta Constitution.]

EASTER COMES EARLY THIS YEAR—STATISTICS

Easter falls this year on April 4, which is almost midway between the earliest and the latest possible dates. The earliest possible date is March 22, and latest possible date is April 25. The rule of Easter is that it is always the first Sunday after the full moon which happens on or after the 21st of March. Consulting a table which gives the date of Easter from the year 1786 to the year 2013, a period of 227 years, we find that in all that time Easter occurs on March 11 only once, which was in the year 1818.

In 1916 Easter comes very late, not until April 23. This late date occurs in 227 years only four times. In 1848 Easter was on April 23; in 1905, in 1915 and also in the year 2006. It occurs as late as April 24 three times in this period—in 1791, 1859 and again in 2011. It occurs on April 25, the latest date possible, only twice—in 1886 and again in 1943.

To the Housewife.

Madam, if your husband is like most men he expects you to look after the health of yourself and children. Coughs and colds are the most common of the minor ailments and are most likely to lead to serious diseases. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when it has a cold. If you will inquire into the merits of the various remedies that are recommended for coughs and colds, you will find that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy stands high in the estimation of people who use it. It is prompt and effectual, pleasant and safe to take, which are qualities especially to be desired when a medicine is intended for children. For sale by all dealers.

THIRD OF BRAIN TAKEN—POWERS ARE RETAINED

Paris, March 27.—The most remarkable surgical operation during the war has been performed by Dr. Guepin, who amputated a portion of a soldier's brain without impairing any of his faculties.

The soldier's skull had been pierced in the occipital region. Many splinters penetrated the left section of the brain, causing a serious abscess. Dr. Guepin abstracted the splinters and cut away part of the brain. The latter operation was repeated when a second abscess formed. The soldier lost at least a third of the left hemisphere of his brain.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

From Deacon Lodge No. 273, I. O. O. F., Melbury, Ky.

The death angel has again invaded our ranks and taken from our number a true and loyal brother, which again brings us to that sacred admonition: "Man born of woman is of few days and full of trouble." Whereas, the Great Architect of the universe, He that doeth all things well, has seen fit in His infinite wisdom to call from his labor here on earth to that grand and glorious lodge on high, where peace and harmony ever prevail, our beloved brother Samuel James, Sr., who departed this life March 19, 1915. Brother James was initiated into the Independent Order of Odd Fellows May 18, 1880. A member nearly thirty-five years. May others look on this as an example for the grand order of I. O. O. F. Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of brother James this lodge has lost a faithful member, the family a kind and loving father, and the community a loyal and trustworthy citizen. Resolved, That we extend to the family our heartfelt sympathy, realizing that words cannot fill the aching void, but pointing to that fountain on high from which all blessings flow.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this lodge, a copy be sent to the bereaved family of our beloved brother and a copy be sent to each of the county papers for publication.

The April American Magazine.

In the April American Magazine Cleveland Moffett tells the story of a wonderful new invention which, it is believed, will prevent collisions at sea and render the deadly submarine practically useless so far as injuring an enemy's ship is concerned.

In the same issue Ring W. Lardner, the famous baseball writer, author of "The Letters of a Busher," picks an all-American baseball team. He takes his men from the two major leagues and describes them humorously, yet pointedly. Ida M. Tarbell, continuing her new business series, "The Golden Rule in Business," contributes an article on "The Hours of Labor." Conspectuous among the short stories in this issue is a political story entitled, "The Lame Duck," written by Brand Whitlock, former mayor of Toledo, and present minister to Belgium. Other fiction of special interest and power is contributed by David Grayson, Ellis Parker Butler, Louis Graves and William MacLeod Raine.

As usual, this magazine includes excellent specimens of humorous writing. This month George Fitch, famous Illinois funny man, writes another homeburg sketch of life in a small town. The title of his piece is "Homeburg's Leisure Class." James Montgomery Flagg, the celebrated New York wit and artist, does an amusing piece in words and pictures, satirizing visiting and visitors.

CASEY'S COW PROBLEM—CAN YOU WORK IT OUT?

Many years ago the problem of Casey's cow was considered rather a tough proposition. It should not, however, prove very difficult for our present-day students and mathematicians.

Statement—Casey's cow was standing on a railroad bridge when all at once she became aware of an approaching train. The train was just twice the length of the bridge away from the end and coming at a ninety-mile clip. The cow dashed toward the train and saved herself by one foot, whereas if she had run

IS YOUR BLOOD RICH?

Poor Blood is the indirect cause of much winter sickness—it allows chills, invites colds and sickness.

Nourishment alone makes blood—not drugs or liquors—and the nourishing food in Scott's Emulsion charges summer blood with winter richness and increases the red corpuscles.

Its Cod Liver Oil warms the body, fortifies the lungs, and alleviates rheumatic tendencies. YOUR DRUGGIST HAS IT. SHUN SUBSTITUTES.

IS IT YOUR KIDNEYS?

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles. A Hartford Citizen Gives a Valuable Hint.

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is where danger often lies. You should realize that these troubles often lead to dropsy or Bright's disease. An effective remedy for weak or diseased kidneys is Doan's Kidney Pills. Read the experience of a resident of Hartford who has tested Doan's.

Daniel King, Hartford, Ky., says: "I suffered intensely from pains in my sides and in the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used by friends with such fine results that I thought I would try them. I got them at the Ohio County Drug Co., and one box permanently cured me."

COOPER TALKS TO MANY FARMERS

Great European War Will Not Affect Distribution of Tanlac.

Lexington, March 29.—Thousands of farmers from Fayette and adjoining counties heard L. T. Cooper, the great philanthropist, in Lexington recently. Cooper gave one of his famous lectures on health and hygiene, in connection with an interesting demonstration of the merits of Tanlac, the remarkable medicine he is introducing to the American people.

Several score of these same farmers took part in the agricultural exposition conducted by Cooper at his own personal expense in Lexington. Many of the displays excelled the exhibits at the county fairs and have attracted widespread attention throughout Kentucky.

In speaking of Tanlac and the remarkable cures his great medicine is fulfilling, Cooper said to the farmers:

"Tanolac, gentlemen, is not a common patent medicine. Tanlac is a proprietary medicine—the kind of medicine recently spoken of by Hon. Oscar Underwood, the Democratic leader of the House of Representatives in our national Congress at Washington, D. C. You all know that Mr. Underwood was a candidate for the Democratic nomination for President, and that he is a man of great ability and integrity. He is a native Kentuckian, too.

"Realizing what a real hardship it would bring to the thousands of American people who daily use Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines, should these preparations be included among the popular commodities upon which a special war revenue tax was placed, Congressman Underwood, with characteristic safeguard of the people's rights, placed himself on record as unalterably opposed to anything that would increase the price of proprietary medicines, or which would tend to deprive the working man of his best friend.

"The result was that Tanlac and similar proprietary medicines were stricken completely off the war revenue bill. Thus it is, gentlemen, that the thousands of sufferers in this country are enabled to obtain Tanlac now at a price within reach of the most modest means."

Here, Cooper, holding the attention of the great assemblage, explained the causes and enumerated the symptoms of stomach, liver and kidney troubles.

"Most of the so-called stomach, liver and kidney troubles," said the noted student, "are due almost entirely to catarrhal inflammation of those organs. The constant coughing up of mucus, dull, throbbing headaches, pains in the pit of the stomach, side and kidney region, lost appetite, nervousness, lost ambition, depression of spirits, and susceptibility to coughs and colds, are common symptoms of this miserable condition from which so many suffer."

Cooper then produced hundreds of testimonials from Lexington people as convincing evidence of the genuine merits of Tanlac.

"Tanolac is now sold in Hartford by Ohio County Drug Co., also by Z. Wilbur Mitchell, Beaver Dam, Ky. —[Advertisement.]

and other dignitaries. The festivities have centered on a celebration of the resurrection of Jesus. They have arisen out of the general spirit of Easter joys. The spirit of the day is one of rejoicing. The symbol is the lily. Its meaning, though beneath a mass of ostentatious ceremony, is still discernible as the New Testament prophecy "When the dead in Christ shall rise and the risen Lord shall lead his resurrected hosts into the splendors of heaven and a new Easter. There gladness shall be for sorrow and songs of praise in place of sighing. In this faith life takes on a new meaning, sorrows are mere incidents, death is robbed of its sting and every grave is seen to be sowed with immortelles."—The Rev. Dr. H. L. Winburn, pastor of Walnut-street Baptist church.

Woman So Weak and Nervous Could Not Stand Her Children Near Her—Vinol Changed Everything for Her

Plant City, Fla.—"I wish I could tell everybody about Vinol. For nine years I was in bad health. I got so I could not sleep, and I could not stand it to have my children come near me. I could not even sew or do any heavy housework. I was simply tired all the time. I tried so many medicines I could not recall them all, but nothing did me any good. One day a friend asked me to try Vinol and said it was the best tonic she ever saw. I did so, and soon got the first good night's sleep I had had for a long time. Now I sleep well, my appetite is good, my nervousness is all gone and I am so strong and well I do all my housework and work in my flower garden without feeling tired or nervous. Vinol has made me a well and happy woman." —Mrs. C. H. MILLER, Plant City, Fla.

The Louisville Times announces that hamburger will be "safe" in the Falls City after April 1, owing to Government inspection of meats that will soon commence. Those who relish that sort of food will govern themselves accordingly.

It seems that the Bull Moose and the Elephant will not get along in Kentucky so well as was expected. At a meeting of the State Central Committee of the Progressives in Louisville it was virtually decided to put a full ticket for State offices in the field.

A mixture of crops so as to have something to sell every week or month in the year, is of the utmost importance to all farmers. It is all right to have a principal crop, but something else should be raised "on the side," and the magnitude of this principal crop in general and its marketing price, should be carefully watched. Farming is becoming more of a science every year and it is a business in which the most careful calculations are constantly necessary.

The Kentucky State Union, American Society of Equity, will convene in Hartford next Tuesday, April 6. This affords a chance for the farmers of Ohio county to get together and perfect an organization which will be of the greatest mutual benefit. The old A. S. of E. has accomplished much good for the farmers of Ohio county in days gone by, and it can do this again and in a more effective way. All it needs is encouragement and get-together. Farmers can accomplish little without organization. They should unite as one man and reap the prosperity that is so justly due them.

There has been considerable confusion over the pronunciation of Przemyśl, the doughty Galician garison which held out for about six months and recently capitulated to the Russians. Authorities disagree as to the pronunciation of this word which looks more like a Chinese puzzle than anything else. Taking the most reasonable choice of the lot, however, "Szhay-meezle" or "Psh-meezle," the accent being on the last syllable, seems to be the most correct pronunciation. Official Russian dispatches announce that hereafter the city will be known by its ancient Russian name, Permyshl, or "Permeezle."

One or two Democratic newspapers in Kentucky are yet so bitter against ex-Congressman A. O. Stanley that they seek to hold him up to public scorn because he is defending a set of men accused of election frauds over in Indiana. These are the same papers of course that were opposed to him last year and are against him this year in his race for office. Much worse cases than the Indiana affair have been defended by eminent lawyers along the line of regular business and their motives and characters were not impugned. A newspaper only jeopardizes its name for fairness and integrity by going out of its way to indulge such tactics. All our candidates should be treated fairly and impartially.

Politics is statescraft—the administration of public affairs. In our country this administration is only possible where two or more political parties strive for supremacy, the winning one assuming control in the person of the elected candidates. All parties strive, of course, to win through the success of their candidates before the people. No party can hope to win unless there is harmony in its ranks. A party split into two or more factions before the candidates are chosen, is liable to meet defeat at the general election following, especially if contentions grow bitter. It is much better to preserve an even temper or generous forbearance in politics as well as private affairs of life.

Kentucky is now under the rule of the County Unit law, which is doing all that its advocates expected. It is a Prohibition and Temperance measure of splendid merit. It is regrettable that the State-wide Prohibition issue should be dragged into the Democratic Primary arena at the present time. It is doing nothing only splitting the party into two factions (for or against) that are as unreasonable and bitter in their denunciation of each other as opponents could possibly be. After all, the coming Legislature is where that matter will be thrashed out, if at all, and no occupant of a State office will have anything to do with it in an official capacity. The Governor cannot officially veto or endorse a Constitutional amendment, which State-wide would require.

Mr. McChesney Announces.
In this issue of The Herald will be found the announcement of Hon. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor, subject to the action of the Democrats of the State at the general primary, August 7, 1915.

Mr. McChesney several years ago filled very acceptably the office of Superintendent of Public Instruction and later, Secretary of State, and promises an abridgment of public expenditures and further advancement of the present progress in educational and agricultural development, if nominated and elected. He is also in favor of urging the next General Assembly to submit to the people for their ratification an amendment to the Kentucky Constitution providing for State-wide prohibition. Read his announcement.

PUDDLE OF WATER WAS UNNOTICED DEATH TRAP

Los Angeles, March 29.—When Cornelius Valkoff went out to his rabbit hutch Sunday to procure a hare for a birthday dinner, he stepped into a water puddle as he touched the latch of the hutch gate and fell dead. An electric cable had broken during the night and turned its 2,200 volt current into the wire fence surrounding the hutch. Later two others were killed and three injured.

Mrs. Valkhoff saw her husband fall and rushed to his aid. She stepped into the puddle as she touched his hand, and fell across his body. Harris Skinner, who occupied half of the Valkhoff dwelling, was the next to invade the fatal short-circuit, bent on rendering aid, and he, too, fell dead. Then three others were injured in an effort to recover the bodies, which proved impossible until the current had been shut off.

FIRE DO DAMAGE AT KNOTTSVILLE AND UTICA

The family residence of Ed Kennedy, a farmer residing in the Knottsville neighborhood, was totally destroyed by fire, which had its origin in a defective flue. The fire was discovered at 11 o'clock and in a short while the house was reduced to a mass of ashes. Much of the household goods were saved. The loss to the home is estimated at about $600, with insurance.

JUST WHO PAYS THE COST OF ADVERTISING?

Certainly not the consumer; certainly not the retailer. Here is the real truth of the matter. Money wisely spent in advertising increases sales and profits to such an extent that sufficient capital is provided for the operation of economies naturally resulting from buying and manufacturing in larger quantities. The bigger volume of trade the cheaper is the relative production. In fact, as all leading advertisers know, production is cheapened in a much greater degree by advertising than is represented by the money spent in advertising. Were it otherwise there would be no use in advertising.

Much as we advertisers love the newspapers, to whose revenues we contribute so handsomely, we only perform this service because we get more out of the publicity they give us than they get out of us—with occasional exceptions, perhaps, which are soon rectified. But what is of still greater importance is that, in ratio with the cheapening of production, there is a cheapening of the advertised article to the public.

—[The late Thomas J. Barratt's Reminiscences in the Strand Magazine.]

Boiled Shirts Tabooed!

Copenhagen, March 29.—The scarcity of flour is growing more serious in Germany. A general prohibition has been issued against baking cakes. Those who infringe the order will be punished with six months' imprisonment. Another result of the lack of flour is the prohibition of the use of starch for shirts, collars and cuffs, the consequence being that all men within a short time will be compelled to wear nothing but soft shirts and collars.

BREADSTUFFS TO THE AMOUNT OF MILLIONS

Which Warring Nations of Europe Are Buying in This Country.

Washington, March 29.—American breadstuffs worth $357,091,823 were shipped abroad during the eighth-month period ending February 28 last, as compared with $115,215,881 for the same period of the preceding year.

Figures given out to-day by the Department of Commerce showed the greatest increase was in wheat exports, which rose from $67,654,680 a year ago to $229,205,142. For last month alone the breadstuff export totaled $62,875,955, compared with $8,772,255 in February, 1914, and the wheat export increased from $3,893,835 to $38,399,993. The department's tables do not show the destination of these shipments, although it is known that the great bulk of them went to feed the soldiers and civilian populations of the belligerent countries of Europe.

Exports of corn and oats also leaped upward by millions of dollars last month and the eight-month period, and in February cotton shipments showed an increase of approximately $20,000,000 over the same month a year ago. The total of cotton exports for the eight-month period, however, fell below the 1914 figures by more than $200,000,000, the respective amounts being, for 1914, $498,910,358; for 1915, $243,947,192.

Some idea of the part American beef is playing in feeding the men in the trenches may be gained from the fact that exports of fresh beef increased last month to $17,813,161 from $512,845 in February the preceding year, while during the eight-month period the total export was $57,000,000 greater than in 1914. Canned beef valued at $7,264,720 went abroad last month, as against $243,766 a year ago.

The protracted meeting still continues at the Baptist church, afternoons and nights. Religious sentiment has been greatly awakened by the very able sermons of Dr. Pettie, the pastor. The singing, under the leadership of Rev. Brookshire, of Owensboro, is also splendid. Large audiences are attending daily.

Charles Fulkerson, of near Rockport, this county, was arrested while in Hartford last Monday, charged with carrying concealed a deadly weapon. The defendant's bond was fixed at $150 and failing to execute same, he was remanded to jail to await the trial which is set for tomorrow before Judge Jno. B. Wilson.

Mr. J. R. Felix, who was operated on by Dr. J. W. Taylor, assisted by Drs. B. F. Tichenor and E. B. Pendleton, last Monday morning at his residence on Madison street, stood the operation splendidly and was doing as well as could be expected yesterday afternoon. The operation consisted in removing a large tumor off his hip.

On the third Sunday in April, 1915, Rev. B. F. Jenkins, of Owensboro, will preach at the Cooper schoolhouse, on the road from Beaver Dam to Cromwell, at 11 o'clock a. m. It will be fifty years ago that day since he preached there, and that was his first sermon in the ministry. His old friends and all others who care to, should go out to hear him and help commemorate this memorable occasion.

The annual and Eighteenth District Convention of the Christian Churches will be held with the church here at Hartford on April 8 and 9, 1915. This District embraces the following counties: Breckenridge, Butler, Davless, Hancock, McLean, Muhlenberg and Ohio. An interesting and instructive program has been arranged and it will be an important occasion. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. A. B. Gardner, one of Ohio county's most beloved and popular ministers, will leave Beaver Dam in a few days to take up his work as superintendent of the Kentucky Baptists Children's Home at Glendale, Ky. Few men have ever so intrenched themselves in the hearts of the people of all denominations as has Rev. Gardner during his ministry here, and he leaves with the hearty best wishes of all his friends and acquaintances.

New Oil Field.

Messrs. R. T. Collins and Frank Lawrence returned the first of the week from a ten-days stay in the new oil fields near Brownsville, Edmonson county. While the well brought in last week at a depth of 1,407 feet is not producing much oil, they were well pleased with the sand showing. The well was shot while they were there, dynamite being used. The shot seemed to kick back and when the bucket was let down the hole was found to be about 34 feet deeper, the shot evidently breaking through into a cavern, thus partially destroying what showing they had in this well for the present. As our fellow townsman, Mr. Mayworth Barnard, is largely interested in this well, it is hoped that this difficulty will be overcome.

MR. SEP TAYLOR DIES AT SOUTH CARROLLTON HOME

Mr. Sep Taylor, one of the most prominent retired farmers of Muhlenberg county, died at his home in South Carrollton last week of infirmities incident to age. He was seventy-five years old. Several years since, having accumulated a competency, he retired to his country home just at the city limits of South Carrollton, where together with his aged wife he spent his declining years. He leaves besides his wife, two children, Dr. S. T. Taylor, of Central City, and Mrs. J. D. Whitaker, of Livermore. The funeral was conducted from the residence. Interment was in the South Carrollton burying ground.

25th ANNIVERSARY OF DESTRUCTIVE CYCLONE

It was just twenty-five years ago last Saturday—March 27, 1890—since the terrific cyclone passed over Ohio county. No doubt many of our readers remember it. It happened on a Thursday night, a short while after the usual darkness had settled over the land.

The cyclone or tornado crossed Green river about half way between Point Pleasant and Smallhouse, taking a farewell whirl at McLean county by tearing down the dwelling of Thomas Bishop, who lived just across the river and in the track of the storm. The first house struck in this county was Mr. James Bullock's. Terrible destruction was wrought along the whole line of the cyclone's frightful march. Large trees were broken like pipestems, houses, barns and other buildings were either swept away or completely wrecked, fences blown down, orchards destroyed and in some places the very earth was torn up by the fury of the winds. The property loss was great.

Fortunately only two people were killed in this county. The cyclone struck the residence of Mr. Isaac Gidcomb on the old Collins farm. The heavy stone chimney was blown against and onto the house. The weight of the chimney caused the house to give way and it fell with a crash through to the lower floor. Mrs. Gidcomb was buried under the wreck, but was saved from the crash of the upper floor by an old-fashioned upright loom. John Gidcomb, a son 23 years old, and Minnie Gidcomb, a daughter 16 years old, were both killed outright. Two more of the children, both girls, each had a leg broken, while two other children were injured slightly. Messrs. R. N. Fitzhugh and Kin Blanton, who were visiting the family, sustained painful though not serious injuries. Mr. Gidcomb was not at home, having gone to Evansville on a raft.

It was a night of terror which those who passed through it will never forget.

MR. CHAPMAN CROW DEAD IN NINETY-FIFTH YEAR

Mr. Chapman Crow died February 18, 1915, at the home of his late and only son, Prof. J. D. Crow, at Bonham, Tex., who preceded him to the great beyond some five months. Mr. Crow was in his 95th year. He was well known in Hartford, which was his former home. He was born in Kentucky and remained here till he was an old man. After the death of his wife in 1892 he moved to Missouri. In his younger days he was a minister in the Baptist church. Perhaps some remember him in that capacity. He had made his home with his son where he died, for the last 14 years.

He leaves four daughters behind: Mrs. Mary F. Patterson, of Leitchfield, Ky.; Mrs. A. M. Johnson, Doniphan, Mo.; Mrs. Sue D. Wells and Mrs. Lon Newcom, both of Springfield, Mo.; also 13 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

GRAPHIC PICTURE OF GOOD FRIDAY

The Horrible Scenes It Stands For.

THE MOST SUBLIME TRAGEDY

The World Has Ever Known
And Its Real Meaning
Is Undying.

CALVARY WORLD'S MORAL AXIS

Picture the city of Jerusalem more than 1,880 years ago. It stood near the summit of a broad, hilly ridge, about 2,600 feet above the Mediterranean Sea, nearly 4,000 feet above the Dead Sea, and eighteen miles from the Jordan. There transpired the greatest event possible to human history.

It was Friday morning, about the first of April. The palaces of Herod and Calaphas and the marble temple, rising in splendid beauty, reflected the glorious sun. The light glittered and danced from tower to turret, from terrace to pinnacle, from leaping fountain to waving foliage, from golden arc to marble floor, kindling the whole city into a smile of picturesque grandeur and royal sublimity.

Jerusalem looked like a queen that morning, as she sat upon her throne of hills. On the hillside and in the valleys slept kings and prophets. To the east stood Mount Olivet, up which David went, weeping, its verdant top and sloping sides replete with thrilling legend and tragic story. At the foot of the mount, just across the ravine, through which Kidron flowed, and about one-half mile from the city gate, lay the garden of Gethsemane. Its olive, fig and pomegranate trees threw out their branches and dropped a deep shade as if to hide from snarling sight some holy spot. The night before heart-breaking groans were heard there. In the morning blood was found on the ground—not as if it had flowed from some open wound, but as if it had been forced through the pores of the skin with the sweat of an awful agony, and thus exuding had mixed with the dust in token of a soul-struggle such as had never occurred before and would never occur again.

"Close to the city, not far from the Praetorium, was a slight elevation or bare mound resembling in shape a naked skull, called Golgotha, Kranton, Calvary, or Calvary—each word meaning "skull." Let us take our stand beside this mound. A procession is passing through the gate of the city. Look! they come—a countless multitude; a Roman eagle and Roman spears glittering in front, and Jerusalem, Judea and Galilee crowding after. Scribes, priests and peasants, Jews and Gentiles, friends of Pilate and followers of Herod. In the middle of the procession we see a pale, bruised and blood-stained figure, staggering beneath the weight of two heavy beams of wood fastened together—forming a cross. Two thieves—one on either side—are bearing him company. He has been the victim of base-born menials, a brutal guard and heinous mob. This day and the previous night have been one scene of indescribable horror. He has been buffeted, mocked, scourged and goaded. His back is breaking and his body is sinking.

The blazing sun beats fiercely upon his bare head. The heavy cross presses painfully upon his lacerated and bleeding back. The Roman soldiers prick him with their spears, to hasten him on to the most horrible and disgraceful death known to the criminal code of the world. See! he falters; his strength is failing; he casts one appealing glance upon those around him. Brutal jeers and bloodthirsty shouts are the only response. He has borne the load almost to the journey's end—will not some one help him now? He sinks exhausted to the ground. The mob yells in fury for fear it will lose its sanguinary entertainment. A countryman approaching, on his way to the city, is forced to bear the burden. By this involuntary service he links his name with that of the Divine sufferer in immortal memory and upon the pages of sacred and profane history.

The mound is reached. Simon gladly throws the cross upon the ground. It was a heavy load for even his broad shoulders. The soldiers roughly throw their victim upon the cross and cruelly nail him to it. The cross is raised amid the delirious and diabolical joy of the mob. The pale lips of the sufferer tremble; he speaks—and his words have rung all through the ages and will never cease to ring—"Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." There they crucified him. He cried, "It is finished," and then "he bowed his head and gave up the ghost."

VACCINATION DEATHS

Cope, Secretary Anti-Vaccination League of America, to the Anti-Compulsory Vaccination Society of Kentucky in the autumn soon after the school term began. ### JIM HAS ENDURANCE—

PROVED BY LONG FAST

Warsaw, Ind., March 26.—By drinking a glass of buttermilk Jim Robinson, inmate of the County Infirmary, to-day ended a fast that stands as a world's record. It is said here.

The buttermilk was the first nourishment taken by him in 57 days. This upsets the theory of medical science that 55 days is the limit of man's endurance to go without food.

During his eight weeks of total abstinence Robinson lost about 100 pounds. Although weak, his physical condition is good. His fast was due to lack of appetite and the fact that the taste and smell of food made him deathly sick.

As It Goes.

Some nations were fighting fiercely.

"Why are you fighting so?" inquired the bystanders, moved at length to curiosity.

"To save civilization," replied the nations severally.

Here a druggled figure rose from the mire under the feet of the combatants and limped lamely away.

"And who are you?" asked the bystanders, with a disposition to get to the bottom of the matter.

"Don't speak to me—I'm civilization!" the figure made answer somewhat pettishly. —[New York Evening Post.

FUSION REJECTED BY PROGRESSIVES

State Committee Voted Down Proposal

TO UNITE WITH REPUBLICANS

On Account Of Its Present
Control, Cannot Aid Republican Party.

TO NOMINATE A FULL TICKET

Louisville, Ky., March 25.—The Progressive State Central Committee, at its meeting Wednesday afternoon, by a vote of 7 to 3, rejected a resolution looking toward a union with the Republicans for the election this fall.

As a result of this action, it is presumed that the Progressives will endeavor to put a full State ticket in the field with candidates from Governor down and fight the Republicans with all vigor.

Those who voted in favor of a straight Progressive ticket and against any kind of fusion with the Republicans were Judge J. M. Galloway, of the Third district; W. F. Nelkirk, of the Fourth district; Burton Vance, of the Fifth district; H. C. Clark, Sixth district; C. A. Segner, managing editor of the Louisville Herald, holding the proxy of W. M. Salsbury, of the Ninth district, and M. J. Holt and M. K. Gordon, State-at-large.

State Chairman W. S. Lawwill, Mr. J. C. Bird and Mr. Emmett Orr voted in favor of fusion with the Republicans. Mr. Lawwill resigned as State chairman after the vote was taken, announcing that he thought it best to return to the Republican party. Mr. M. J. Holt was elected in his place.

The following communication from Mr. Leslie Combs was read, indicating an opinion that the Republican party in the State is under such control that it would be better not to assist that party in a fight against the Democrats:

Lexington, Ky., March 23, 1915.

—The Hon. W. S. Lawwill, chairman, Galt House, Louisville, Ky.: Dear Mr. Lawwill—I am sorry, for reasons I have given you in a personal note, that I cannot be with your committee to-morrow.

"The more I think over the situation in Kentucky the more impossible it seems to me that any basis for co-operation with the Republicans can be found this year.

"I regard the Progressive party as a means for good political service, not in itself an end, and I had hoped that the Republicans would offer such a candidate upon such a platform as would justify united action for its success.

"While I feel there is a large majority of the voters of that party that would like to respond to a movement looking to a co-operation for the purpose of improving the government of our State, it is equally evident to my mind that the organization is in the same control with no wiser view than prevailed in 1912, and that it is better to have Democratic misrule without responsibility than to share the responsibility of imposing upon the State a Republican Governor selected by the influences apparently in control of that party.

"I am inclined, therefore, personally, to the opinion that our party should offer a ticket, though I am quite willing to accept the judgment of the State committee on the subject. Your sincerely,

"LESLIE COMBS."

The discussion before the State Central Committee was started by a resolution from J. C. Bird, of the Eleventh district, which read:

"Resolved, That the Progressives of Kentucky should immediately take steps toward an agreement for an honorable union with the Republicans of Kentucky for the election of State officers and members of the Legislature in 1915."

Mr. Emmett Orr, of Covington, supported Mr. Bird, stating that no radical differences now existed between the Republican and Progressive parties.

Mr. M. J. Holt made a vigorous speech against any kind of fusion with the Republicans, and Mr. Burton Vance indulged in a violent harangue to the same effect. Mr. Vance made a bitter attack upon former Governor A. E. Wilson, Mr. Charles L. Scholl, Judge Homer Batson and other Republicans who refused to support the Progressive nominees in the city election in Louisville in 1913. Mr. Vance opposed any kind of amalgamation with the Republicans, and stated his belief that the Progressive voters in Louisville will stand by the Progressive party.

The vote was then taken, and, after fusion had been defeated, Mr. Lawwill resigned and Mr. Holt was chosen in his place.

During the debate Mr. Holt said there was a possibility that the Republicans would nominate Mr. E. P. Morrow and the Democrats Mr. Stanley and the Progressives could then appeal to the temperance vote of the State and make a strong showing.

Mr. Holt did not himself oppose Mr. Morrow as a Republican nominee any stronger than all Republican candidates, but it came out at the meeting that the Louisville Herald, which has been acting as the organ of the Progressives, has demanded of the Republicans that Mr. Morrow not be nominated, and has indicated that the Herald would not flip to the Republican side unless some other than Morrow is named.

The Morrow men say that they will disregard such proposals, and that Morrow will be nominated.

MRS. STONEWALL JACKSON

DEAD AT RIPE OLD AGE

Charlotte, N. C., March 24.—Mrs. Mary Anna Jackson, widow of Gen. Stonewall Jackson, died at her home here this morning.

Mrs. Jackson was born near this city July 21, 1831, the daughter of the Rev. Robert Morrison, a Presbyterian minister and founder of Davidson College. She attended Salem (N. C.) Academy and College, finishing in 1849.

Her marriage took place in July, 1857. Jackson then was a Major, serving as instructor in Virginia Military Institute at Lexington. She became a close student of military tactics and always took an aggressive interest in the fortunes of the Confederate armies. After her husband died of wounds in 1863 she wrote a volume of memories of his career.

POSSUM HUNTERS WHIP

A FARMER AND HIS SON

Rockport, Ky., March 24.—A large band of masked and mounted "possum hunters," armed with shotguns, last night at 11 o'clock attacked the home of Thomas Tilford, a wealthy farmer living near this city, and, after capturing him and his son, Frederick, took them into a nearby thicket and whipped them with hickory switches.

Recently a farmer living on Mr. Tilford's place found a "possum hunter" warning tacked to his gate. Mr. Tilford was accused of the deed. He asserts his innocence and declares he knows nothing of this affair. The visit and the whipping followed.

The regulators told Mr. Tilford to come to this city this morning and give the story to the newspaper men here. This Mr. Tilford did. This fresh outbreak of the regulators has created intense excitement in Ohio county.

GOD MADE THE COUNTRY—

MAN'S HEART EVER THERE

As the wire edge of winter wends down to the softness of spring the call of the country becomes insistent. The desert that man has made and called a town may be good enough in winter. Then we see starved plants growing on ledges of the stony cliffs we call houses or hotels, as pathetic a sight dance hall. They have no place there. The blasting winds of winter tear them to pieces and the blistering suns of summer burn the life out of them. But the country! That is the place for living. The green carpet of the earth gladdens the heart, and the sight of growing things that we have planted appeals to something fundamental in us which we deny at the peril of losing our best selves.

We are all farmers at bottom. Man made the town, and it is a splendid example of what man can do, leaving out the glory of the fecund earth. But God, after all, made the great outdoors that we know as the country. —[Philadelphia Ledger.

Which?

Mrs. Smith-Jones, taking a villa at Palm Beach, engaged for butler a stately old colored deacon. "Now, Clay," she said to the old fellow, "there are two things I must insist upon—truthfulness and obedience."

"Yes, madam," the venerable servant answered, "and when you bids me tell yo' guests yo's out when yo's in, which shall it be?"

AN UNUSUAL MAN IS AT THE HELM

To Cope With An Unusual Situation.

ALWAYS FOUND COOL HEADED

The Common Human Emotions Do Not Stir His Steadfast Course.

ESTIMATE OF OUR PRESIDENT

On the fiftieth anniversary of Lincoln's second Inaugural, Woodrow Wilson completes half of his Presidential term.

These two years of the Wilson administration have helped to make more history than any other two years since Lincoln. The coming two years of the Wilson administration must inevitably be the most momentous period that this country has known since the Civil War.

It is a fact of enormous importance that this crisis finds in the White House a President who is completely master of himself. Being master of himself, he is master of his party and of his administration.

There is no kitchen cabinet. There are no back-stairs advisers. There are no secret influences that pull and sway the policies of the executive. No underground wires run from the White House into Wall street or into the headquarters of any political committee. Men may agree with Mr. Wilson or disagree with him; they may like him or they may dislike him; but everybody knows that he alone is President. Everybody knows that during the remaining two years of his term he and he alone will be President.

A very unusual man stands to cope with a very unusual situation in the affairs of mankind—a President who in all his official relations displays neither vanity nor resentment, nor anger nor personal ambition. If he has friends their friendship counts for nothing in the affairs of state. If he has enemies, their enmity weighs nothing in the balance of government.

He seeks neither to reward the one nor to punish the other.

So evenly does he hold the scales that the members of the diplomatic corps, with all their highly developed facilities for obtaining information, have not been able to learn where the President's personal sympathies lie in the great conflict that is now devastating Europe. Whatever his individual opinions may be, he has smothered them in the responsibilities of his office.

At this period in their first term most Presidents have been carefully calculating their chances of re-nomination and re-election. Nobody knows whether Mr. Wilson intends to be a candidate for re-election or not. Not a member of the cabinet, not a member of Congress can say of his own knowledge that the President desires a re-election or that he would not refuse a re-nomination. What all of them know is that the President would not stoop from principle to win either a re-nomination or a re-election.

That is where his great strength lies. That is where his great use-

A Happy Home (Read What Peruna Did)

Mrs. James F. Summitt, No. 1006 East Eighth St., Muscatine, Iowa, writes:

"My health was so miserable for years that I was practically an invalid. We had no family, owing to my ill health. I was induced to give Peruna a trial, and found very quickly that it was helping me."

I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy. He is our first and only child.

"I am now well and happy. We have a baby boy, which we believe is the direct consequence of my improved health. He is our first and only child, and if Peruna had not cured me of my ailments we should never have had him. I hope every suffering woman will give Peruna a trial, the same as I have."

Those who object to liquid medicine can now procure Peruna Tablets.

fulness lies in this crisis. It is easy to rattle the sabre. It is easy to make the welkin ring. It is easy to be spectacular and sensational and theatrical. It is easy to be a demagogue. It is easy, to juggle with the fate of a nation when no man can forecast what the next day will bring forth. But it is not easy to be calm and restrained and judicial. It is not easy to face every responsibility without prejudice and without passion. It is not easy to hew straight to the line of first principles, regardless of applause, of censure, or praise, or denunciation. It is not easy to be sane when the world has given itself over to madness.

The enormous good fortune of the people of the United States in the storm and stress of these coming years is that their chief magistrate is sane—the sanest mind today that is entrusted with the responsibilities of government anywhere in civilization.—(New York World.)

TEMPERANCE ADVOCATE IS AGAINST STATE-WIDE

The Louisville Post says: Yesterday we published a card from Mr. Harry A. Sommers, editor of the Elizabethtown News, regarding the issue of the Kentucky campaign, as viewed by a Democratic editor of many years' experience.

Of Mr. Sommers' right to advise temperance Democrats there can be no two opinions. Mr. Sommers was one of the two men appointed from the State-at-large to serve upon the Platform Committee of the Democratic State convention in Louisville in 1911, his associate being Mr. Beckham. The latter led the fight for a plank pledging the party to the adoption of a county unit plank, and Mr. Sommers was his most active and resourceful assistant. Later Mr. Sommers took as active a part as any State editor in the fight to pass the County Unit bill during the legislative session of 1912, and to amend it properly in 1914.

Mr. Sommers is a temperance man and a county unit advocate, but he sees, or thinks he sees, the wisdom of bringing in State-wide prohibition at this time, and in the way proposed. The whole political situation is confused, but the position taken by Mr. Sommers is significant as indicating the possibilities of a sharp contest inside the party between the men who stand for State-wide prohibition and those who contend that a better policy would be to await the trial of the County Unit bill.

TWO NEW STATES ARE NOW IN CONTEMPLATION

Nearly a century elapsed after the death of Washington before his name was given to a State of the Union, and thus honored.

Noteworthy, therefore, are three simultaneous movements now in progress.

In the Legislature at Austin a joint resolution has been introduced providing for submitting to popular vote a proposition for making a new State of the western part of Texas to be called Jefferson.

In the far Northwest petitions asking that certain eastern counties of Washington and the Panhandle section of Idaho shall become the State of Lincoln, have been signed and will be sent to Congress, since, in this case, the change requires Congressional sanction.

California below the Tehachapi had 64,000 inhabitants three decades and a half ago. Now the census discloses almost 1,000,000. The people are "Easterners" mainly. Because they supported prohibition, which failed, and a blue-sky law, the old California of Bret Harte talks of dividing the State.

So there, too, is a possible chance of honoring yet another President in the list of 27 Presidents at a christening.—(Boston Globe.)

A stitch in time is worth two needles in a haystack.

McCHESNEY ENTERS RACE FOR GOVERNORSHIP

Stands for Constitutional Amendment Submitting to the People Vote on State-Wide Prohibition of Sale of Liquor.

Says it Must Be Determined Whether They or the Whiskey Interests Shall Rule Kentucky.

With the declaration in favor of State-wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors as the chief plank in his platform, the Hon. H. V. McChesney, of Frankfort, has announced himself as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor in the State primary of next August.

Mr. McChesney declares that if nominated and elected, he will urge upon the General Assembly to submit to the people for their ratification an amendment to the Kentucky Constitution providing for State-wide prohibition. In the formal announcement of his candidacy, Mr. McChesney, who several years ago filled the office of State Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, promises an abridgement of public expenditures where it can be properly done, and the further advancement of the present progress in educational and agricultural development.

His announcement is as follows: "To the Democratic voters of Kentucky: After mature deliberation I have decided to enter the race for the Democratic nomination for the office of Governor, in the primary to be held August 7, 1915. In making this announcement it is due those whose support I seek that I briefly outline the policies I advocate.

I am in favor of state wide prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors. If nominated and elected, I shall urge upon the legislature in 1916 the passage of an Act submitting a prohibition amendment to the Constitution to the people for their ratification. In view of the large amount of capital invested in the liquor business, however, I shall favor careful and rigid inspection of all departments of the State government with this purpose in view.

I congratulate the State on the great development in our public school system in recent years, and if elected I shall endeavor to further advance the cause of public education. Having devoted a large part of my life to the cause of the public schools, I am deeply interested in their continued growth.

The increased interest manifested over the State in improved methods of agriculture and in the construction of good roads is very gratifying. If elected I shall aid in every way possible in the furtherance of both of these great interests, so vital to the progress and welfare of the whole people.

I am in hearty sympathy with the progressive spirit which has marked the State's advance along many lines in recent years, and it shall be my ambition if elected to see this spirit yield a still greater fruitage in the agricultural, industrial and commercial development of the Commonwealth.

My record as Superintendent of Public Instruction and as Secretary of State is before the people for their judgment, and I shall enter into no detailed account of my services in these positions. The people of the State are more or less familiar with the record made, and am willing to let their judgment of my fitness for the office of Governor rest on that record.

During my term as Superintendent of Public Instruction the State per capita was increased by the legislature of the State put on a more efficient basis, and other educational progress made. At a provision in the Act giving a reasonable time, after its ratification, before it becomes operative, in order that those engaged in the business may adjust their affairs without too great a sacrifice.

I have no fault to find with the County Unit Law. I have favored every advanced step taken in its various amendments. It is a step in the right direction, and has been a great blessing to the Commonwealth. Under it 106 counties have voted dry; but the remaining counties contain a very considerable part of the total population of the State. The present law seems inadequate to give relief to the people of most of these counties. And again, the liquor interests, instead of showing respect for the County Unit Law, and for the will of the people as expressed at the polls, have been contesting every election since its passage, and in the process have done much to bring the law and its enforcement into disrepute. They have made it their business to utterly oppose every man who aspires to public office who does not take his orders from them. A temperance man can not run for any office in Kentucky, however humble, without feeling the weight of their wrath, expressed in the usual way. Their efforts to dominate the politics of the State have increased as county after county has been added to the dry column, until their influence has become a menace to popular self-government.

In view of all this it seems that there is but one solution to the problem, and that is to submit it to the whole people who may know once and for all time whether the people or the liquor interests are to rule in Kentucky. Not only is this the logic of the situation, but it is absolutely fair. Who can be heard to say that the people as a whole haven't a right to pass on a question so vitally affecting their moral and financial welfare? We submit good roads amendments and taxation amendments to the whole people—why not submit this question, infinitely more vital to them?

As stated above, I am not unmindful of the property interests involved. It is to be regretted that moral reforms often bring financial loss to some; but the public conscience justifies the loss to the few when it means an infinitely greater saving to the many. The onward march of Christian civilization must not be retarded because a few men have invested their money in the business constituting the obstruction.

My familiarity with the financial affairs of the State, as a result of eight years' experience (from 1907 to 1907) as Superintendent of Public Instruction and Secretary of State, and as a member of the Sinking Fund Board, leads me to believe that such a revision of our tax system can be made as will readily reduce the State debt, and make good any decrease in revenues that might arise from the loss of the tax on liquors. And this can be done without any increase of the tax rate. Having State revenues is just as important as producing them. With the elimination of the liquor business from the State, the saving to the State in criminal prosecutions alone would be an enormous item, and go far toward a solution of the financial problem. If the money spent for liquor in Kentucky, and for criminal prosecutions growing out of its use can be saved, in half a dozen years we can relieve the financial situation of the State and build a macadam road to every church and school house in the Commonwealth.

Another large saving can be accomplished by the elimination of all useless offices, and if elected I shall institute a

From County Superintendent of Livingstonsburg, was promoted to the office of State Superintendent in 1909, running on the Goebel ticket. Four years later he was elected Secretary of State on the ticket with C. C. Beckham.

Their friendship has been continuous and close since that time. Mr. McChesney was chairman of the speakers' bureau of the State headquarters in 1911 and, excepting Governor McCreary himself, made more speeches in the campaign than any other Democrat. He stamped the State with Mr. Beckham when the latter was elected United States Senator.

Probably no public man in the State is in more demand as a speaker on all sorts of occasions than Mr. McChesney, and his interests in affairs touching community life, as well as the welfare of the State, are well known in Frankfort, where he has resided and has been practicing law since leaving State office. He is at present a member of the City Board of Education, a Director of the Y. M. C. A., Vice-President of the Kentucky State Historical Society, and a member in the Baptist church and President of its Sunday School.

OILTON.

March 27.—Mr. Fred Faught has about 75 acres of corn ground broken ready to plant.

Mr. Jake Oller has pneumonia.

The quarterly meeting held here last Wednesday had small attendance at day service, but a large crowd was out at night. The presiding elder, Rev. J. T. Rushing, preached an able sermon at each service. His sermons will be long remembered by some present.

Miss Myrtle E. Canan is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mercedes Duncan, Davidson Station. They will go to Huff's Creek to-day to attend the Baptist all-day meeting. Dinner on the ground.

The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mitchell died of diphtheria Friday morning and was buried in the Oilton cemetery Saturday afternoon. This is the second child they have lost in the last two years from the same disease.

The candy-pulling given by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bruner last Saturday night was highly enjoyed. It was in honor of Miss Chrissie Bruner's birthday anniversary.

Rev. Birch Shields preached at the Baptist church here Sunday evening.

The banner was awarded to Mr. Arthur Mitchell's class. This banner is causing the pupils to take quite an interest in the Methodist Sunday School here.
